Development

My name is Emily Romund and I'm the English Language Development (ELD) teacher at Marin School. My job is to support, teach, and assess English Learner (EL) students at all fluency levels. I also work with other teachers and families to help children have a successful and fun time at school. In addition to speaking English as my home language, I also speak a little Spanish and I'm fluent in French. I'm happy to support Familias Latinas as they do such important cultural work in our community schools.
